RE: TST EVALUATION OF CHARTWELL RNG

This Certification Letter pertains to Technical Systems Testing (TST)'s evaluation of the Chartwell Technology Incorporated (Chartwell) Random Number Generator (RNG).

TST's evaluation of the Chartwell RNG was performed with the aim of identifying and detailing system weaknesses and potential issues of non-compliance with any applicable requirements from the following sets of standards and specifications:

1. Generally-accepted industry standards for highly-regulated jurisdictions, and
2. Chartwell's technical specifications for their RNG.

TST has verified through mathematical and statistical analysis that the Chartwell RNG distributes numbers with sufficient non-predictably, fair distribution and lack of bias to particular outcomes. TST's Final Outcome Distribution Tests were performed using a confidence interval between 95% and 98%, which are documented intervals of confidence for such statistical analysis. The evaluation has shown that the Chartwell RNG produces a statistically acceptable source of random numbers for the following games / applications:

Subject to the inherent confines of a laboratory compliance evaluation of this type, TST certifies that the Chartwell RNG meets or exceeds any applicable technical requirements from the set of standards and specifications listed above. Accordingly, TST certifies the RNG supplied by Chartwell, for operation within highly-regulated jurisdictions.

TST's evaluation of the Chartwell RNG was limited to the laboratory environment, and was based on specific information and materials including, but not necessarily limited to, source code, software, hardware, configurations, documentation and general correspondence, as submitted to TST from August 5, 2003 to August 21, 2008. For verification purposes, TST has maintained a control version (or the means of verifying the control version) of all submitted information and materials.

Should you have any questions or comments regarding TST's evaluation of the Chartwell RNG, please do not hesitate to contact us at our Vancouver office on +1 (604) 873-5833.

Assuring you of our best attention at all times.

Yours sincerely,

Mr. Noah Turner
